Estimated Earnings for Independent Students

An Expected Family Contribution (the amount a student and his/her family are expected to contribute toward the cost of attendance) is used in determining the amount of financial need that a student demonstrates. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid uses 2015 income toward determining the Expected Family Contribution (EFC) for the 2017-2018 academic year.

Since some students experience a major change in their financial situation when they attend school, we decide on an individual basis if estimated 2017 income would give us a more realistic idea of the student's financial situation.

Please state in the space provided on the back of this form if and why you think your financial information for 2017 should be used instead of 2015 in determining your Expected Family Contribution.

To help us determine your 2017 earnings, please complete the chart below and on the reverse side and send it to the Financial Aid office. Be sure to include earnings on weekends, vacation time, and summer time. Because we have found through experience that students generally underestimate their projected earnings, we recommend that you overestimate your earnings. In 2018, we will request a copy of your and your family's 2017 federal income tax form to compare it to your 2017 estimate.
